Why do we ask for your ethnicity and race?

Lack of equal health care for racial and ethnic minorities in the US is long-standing and well-documented. Even today our health care system remains far from equitable. The elimination of these inequalities is a matter of great moral and practical concern. More than 70 professional (including medical) societies have recognized this need and have formed the "Commission to End Health Care Disparities." Our office is following the recommendations of this organization.

The first step in eliminating disparities is to collect reliable data on the demographic characteristics of our patients.

Legal concerns:

Because this information is collected for all patients we are not discriminating against any ethnic or racial group. Collecting patient race and ethnicity is allowed by:

1. The Civil Rights Act of 1964.
2. The Privacy Rule of the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPPA).
3. Assessment of Federal Policies and Practices (2001) (available upon request).

Question 1 (Ethnicity): Are you Hispanic or Latino?
(A Person of Cuban, Mexican, Puerto Rican, South or Central American, or Spanish culture in origin regardless of race.)
